VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1867. NO. 43.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

From the Wilmington Journal.

LETTER FROM BISHOP ATKINSON.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, ENGLAND, September 3, 1867.

To the Editors of the Wilmington Journal:

GENTLEMEN:—In compliance with your request that I should write to you occasionally during my stay in Europe, and as a means of satisfying the interest of my many personal friends who read your paper, and who desire to know the state of my rather precarious health, and the events of my tour, I use this first day of entire leisure to accomplish those objects. I sailed from New York on the 10th, of August, in the "City of Baltimore," one of the Inman line of steamships. This is a rival line to that of Cunard, equal, probably, in the quality of its vessels, and in the speed and apparently the safety of its voyages, for I was told by a gentleman who is an underwriter at Lloyds, that the insurance is the same on both. But there is certainly greater luxury on the Cunard ships, and, with most persons, a more absolute feeling of security, so successful has the career of these been, and so admirable their discipline and their equipments. On the other hand, the passage money on the Inman line, going and returning, is not much more than half of that charged on the Cunard, the former being $175 in gold for both trips, while the latter is $310. The expenses of these lines are so great that the charges do not seem exorbitant. We used in the "City of Baltimore" about 65 tons of coal a day, and we had about a hundred persons belonging to the ship, including officers, crew, firemen and stewards, all of whom receive liberal wages, so as to secure the best hands. The Captain told me that he estimated the expense of the ship, going to New York and returning, and including her own wear and tear and that of her machinery, as being not less than £10,000, or $50,000. Yet both lines do so large a business that the Cunard proprietors have become very rich, and the Inman's must be on the high road to the same result, for they are continually enlarging their operations.

We landed at Queenstown, after a voyage which was, on the whole, very smooth, although its monotony was relieved in a way very disagreeable to landsmen, by a storm of twelve hours continuance. We preferred to land at Queenstown, rather than at Liverpool, in order to see something of the South of Ireland, and especially of the far-famed Lakes of Killarney. We spent three days very pleasantly at Cork, visiting one or two points of interest in the neighborhood, among others the beautiful views of Castle Blarney, of which the principal glory is that it was the last place in Ireland to surrender to him, whom the Irish so deeply abhor, Oliver Cromwell. It boasts, also, the possession of the celebrated Blarney Stone, which, whosoever kisses, acquires the gift, so common among the Irish, of flattering and cajoling any one they wish to gain over. The interest of the place, however, in my eyes, grew chiefly out of the beauty of the scenery around it, and its association with other days and other forms of life.

"The high-raised battlements and lofty towers, Thick wall and moated gate;"

the narrow slits in the walls, for arrow-shots to be discharged against assailants; the deep, dark dungeons, for the confinement of criminals or prisoners; even the state-rooms, in which security was so much more studied than comfort, all indicated a condition of society altogether unknown among ourselves, except in romance or poetry, and which even in Europe has for centuries passed away, never to return, for even were there a recurrence of the same lawlessness and violence, these safeguards would not be again adopted, because they would be so utterly powerless against modern implements of war.

I found the South of Ireland a much more beautiful and prosperous country than I expected. The famine of 1847 was, in its results, a great benefit to it. It caused an immense emigration, and thereby diminished the supply of labor and increased the wages of the laborers. They receive now eight or nine shillings a week and their food—a sum very little, to be sure, but perhaps double what they earned before that event. There is now a curious current and counter-current of population moving between Ireland and America. Some six hundred emigrants sail every week from Queenstown and nearly as many land there on their return home. There were some two hundred returning emigrants, mostly Irish, in the ship I came over in. They are disappointed in their expectations, find that with higher wages they have much greater expenses and can save no money, dislike the climate, it may be, or lose some member of their family, become disheartened and return. Others, on the contrary, in Ireland find work slack, get encouraging letters and remittances of money from friends in America and determine to emigrate. The population in Ireland, on the whole, continues to diminish. Cork, I am told, being, perhaps, an extreme case, has sunk from one hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants to eighty thousand, yet the country looks anything but desolate.—The fields are fertile, beautifully cultivated, and very productive; the residences of the gentry and merchants, with their lawns and gardens surrounding them, are studded all over the country, and would be admired for their air of elegance, opulence and taste, in any region of the world. The houses of the peasants are dirty, but not, on that account, uncomfortable to them, and they are close and warm, while the people themselves look strong, healthy and cheerful; the children are numberless, as merry as crickets, and have such brilliant complexions that a Wilmington mother would be alarmed for her offspring if she saw them with so deep a color, fearing that it was fever which produced it. The Irish peasants are remarkable for good humor and courtesy, but especially for reverence towards the clergy. Certainly I have received in Dublin and Cork, although of course personally a stranger, and only recognized as a clergyman by my dress, ten times as many profound bows as I was ever saluted with in England or at home. But one deduction from the merits of the Irish peasants, their warmest admirer must concede; that is, that they are, of all the beggars in Christendom, at least out of Italy, the most unabashed and importunate. On the other hand, if you like flattery and blessings, you get your money's worth in that sort of currency.

One thing which strikes an American, especially if he be from one of the Military Districts, which were formerly Southern States, and travel through England, Scotland or Ireland, is the admirable condition of the roads. Accustomed, as I am, to the roads in North Carolina, it made a deeper impression on me. Here the grades are low, the road-bed rises on each side to the middle, by a gentle curve, enough to carry off the water, but not to affect sensibly the equilibrium of a carriage; the bed itself is made of stones, broken into small pieces, so that it becomes as firm and almost as smooth as a wooden floor; the rains merely moisten the surface, the water running at once into the gutters, and the horse consequently, in drawing, meets as little resistance as is possible, unless the wheels ran on iron rails.—Horses consequently draw enormous freights with comparatively little effort. I remember in Scotland being on a stage-coach with seventeen other passengers, inside and out, and the driver and our luggage, and being drawn by two horses at the rate of ten miles an hour, without difficulty or inconvenience to them. Now, it is evident that not only are roads of this sort very pleasant, but that they save an immense deal of horse power, and, what is much more costly, human time and labor. In our altered circumstances we can only prosper by saving labor, and one necessary means of doing this is to have good roads. But good roads are not possible under our system of keeping them in repair by the work of the laborers living on or near them. They have no inducement to make their portion good, for the next lot of hands may destroy the benefit of their work by leaving their part neglected. Here the roads are let out to contractors, and the money is not paid until the work is satisfactorily done, and therefore it is done. It, as the Emperor of France has lately said, good roads are a test of civilization, Ireland, as well as England and Scotland, would stand at the head of the nations, while the good old North State would find it expedient to show her accustomed modesty and withdraw from the contest altogether.

From Cork we went by rail to the Lakes of Killarney. These are three, connected, however, by narrow channels, and the lower much the larger, being about five miles long and two and a half broad. The scenery around these lakes is not only the finest in Ireland, but it is generally considered the most varied and beautiful in the Kingdom. They lie deeply embedded among high, precipitous mountains, sometimes bare, sometimes covered with rich woods, while occasionally beautiful valleys intervene, with noble trees and herbage of that intense green which gives its name to the Emerald Isle. On their shores and inlets are ruins of castles and monastic buildings, with many noble modern houses and villas. One very striking ruin is that of Muckross Abbey, in the chapel of which he buried some of the chieftains who, in former ages, ruled over this part of Ireland. The scenery around the Abbey shows the good taste of the Monks, for it is of exquisite pastoral beauty.

The Tore Waterfall is also much and justly admired, and its solemn grandeur is greatly enhanced by the majestic firs that hang over the stream as it pursues its thunderous course towards the Lake.

From Killarney we came at once to England, passing through Dublin without stopping, as I had visited it last year.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1867.

THE ORR-SICKLES CORRESPONDENCE.

We publish, elsewhere, the correspondence, heretofore referred to in the news items of the day, which took place between Governor Orr, of South Carolina, and General Sickles, on the occasion of the removal of the latter from the command of this Military District.

Owing to his locality and surroundings, the fact that he had been on duty in South Carolina for a long time and was well acquainted with the peculiar exigencies and wants of the people of that State, General Sickles' administration was moulded more with reference to those wants and that people than to those of this State. Gov. Orr, therefore, may be entirely right in saying that his administration was universally approved in South Carolina. We will not say that, in its application to this State, it might not have been much worse, or that General Sickles is not entitled to a fair share of consideration at the hands of our people for much that he did or left undone, but some of his orders were very harsh and grating to them. They submitted to them, with what cheerfulness they could, and with prompt acquiescence, because, under the law, they recognized the fact that he was invested with plenary powers. But to say, as Governor Orr says of the people of South Carolina, that our people "approved" or "endorsed" them, would be uncandid in point of fact and unjust to them. We speak, particularly, with reference to his Jury order, and the order abolishing not only all civil distinctions, but all social distinctions, on the railroads, &c.

We took occasion to observe of General Sickles' communication to the Charleston Board of Trade, that we had seen no production so illogical in itself or more apologetic for the Radical legislation of Congress. This reply to Gov. Orr, though kindly in its temper and terms, and though dealing simply in generalities, is marked by the same characteristics.

When Gen. Sickles says that the effect of reconstruction, on the basis of the Congressional Acts, will be to restore "the Carolinas" to the Union, "with all their ancient rights and dignity unimpaired," we can but confess our astonishment at such a declaration from so intelligent a source. Under the "ancient" order of things, when the Constitution was regarded as a living power, the vital spark of our liberties, and not as an obsolete idea and thing of naught, North Carolina possessed the "right" of adjusting the question of franchise for itself, and of regulating its own domestic polity. The effect of the reconstruction that is required of us will be to shear the States of the rights which they have heretofore held as most sacred, and greatly to lower their dignity in their own eyes and that of the world.

Again, Gen. Sickles speaks of the conditions prescribed by Congress "as having no other object than to make" our State governments "Republican" in form. If he means "Republican," in the party acceptance of that much abused term, we concede his premises. To Radicalize and Africanize these States was the design of Congress, undoubtedly; but we trust that the good sense and steady, honest conservatism of our people, in North Carolina at least, will yet defeat this object, without transgressing the literal demands of the party in power. But Gen. Sickles, by intimating that the Southern States can only be made Republican, in a governmental sense, through the purgatory process of unqualified negro enfranchisement, virtually alleges that four fifths of the governments of the "loyal" States,—his own State of New York among them,—are anti-Republican, and that they have always been so. He speaks of resigning his commission in the army and going before the people on the merits of his administration, if he fails to obtain a Court of Enquiry. Will he go before the people of New York and advocate unqualified negro suffrage in that State? We doubt it. It will be well for Gen. Sickles and other shouters for negro equality to pull the beam from their own eyes, before talking about the mote in ours.

Gen. Sickles predicts that the colored race will ultimately become the "bone and sinew" of the South. The white yeomanry of the country have always been its "bone and sinew," and must continue to be, so long as they remain in it. Gen. Pope goes beyond Gen. Sickles, and prophesies, in effect, that the black will yet become the superior race in the South. The prognostications are different in degree, but they are similar in kind, and both contemplate a condition of things which is calculated to excite profound apprehension. We trust that the colored people may become an intelligent, industrious and virtuous race. We shall contribute everything in our power to make them such. We wish to see them provided with comfortable homes, as the results of their own labor, and we invoke their co-operation in building up the waste places and restoring the prosperity of the South. We shall always advocate all the proper rights incidental to their new relations; but the day can never come when an inferior element, numerically, morally and intellectually, can become the "bone and sinew" of any land, without first depopulating it of the superior race. That the blacks may become useful citizens, if they will pursue a sensible course and refuse to lend a credulous ear to the schemes and counsels of bad men and designing demagogues, we admit, and none will be more ready to accord them their proper place and all due credit, every way, than ourselves or those who think with us, when such shall be the case.

"LET EVERY MAN BE FULLY PERSUADED IN HIS OWN MIND."

It is plainly the duty and the right of every man to do what his best judgment determines to be right and proper to be done. Mere motives of policy are not sufficient to determine the actions of a man.—He must first resolve that the action is right and necessary in itself, and what he thus determines he should do "if the stars fall." Men should never do simply what policy dictates, at the sacrifice of principle and duty. Hence in politics, as in every thing else, "every man should be fully persuaded in his own mind." When we, therefore, suggest a course of action, as a mere matter of policy, because we think it wisest and best, we claim no right to mark out a course for others. We submit it, in order that they may determine their own course of action, by their own judgment and conscience.

Conservatives seldom differ as to principles, but as to policy they may differ like other men. Some Conservatives do not believe that they can conscientiously vote for a State Convention at this time, to form a new State Constitution; many others think they can. The question is simply one of policy, to be determined by their own convictions of right and propriety. It is not a Conservative principle. Therefore, every one will feel himself at liberty to follow his own judgment.

The only question about which Conservatives in North Carolina are concerned at the present time, is whether or not Radicalism shall rule and control North Carolina,—whether it can be prevented or not.—All feel that if it can be prevented, every Conservative should exert himself by all legitimate means to prevent it. Matters of immense interest are involved in the issue. Every Conservative man must see that the triumph of Radicalism in North Carolina, involves the destruction of the energy and enterprise of our people, the prevention of immigration and the investment of capital,—that it must cut off most or all of the sources of employment to our laboring population, and that the poor must become poorer. They must see that negro equality here, under Radical rule, means negro supremacy. Great principles and great interests are, therefore, involved in the issue. Hence, every man must arouse himself and work manfully to prevent the direful consequences of Radical rule in the State.

A NUT TO CRACK.

The Radical nominees in Rowan County seem not to suit the bona fide Union men. This will be found to be the case all over the State, as a general rule. We do not know a sensible out-and-out Union man, a native of the State,—one who maintained a consistent course throughout,—who will allow his name to be set down among the Radicals. No sensible, consistent Union man, who really desires the peace and harmony of the American Union restored, can be a Radical. No man who loves and reverees the sacred principles of American liberty, as defined in the Declaration of Independence and in the Constitution of the United States, who is sensible and consistent, can be a Radical.

A moderate Republican, in the last Old North State, enters the following disclaimer against the Radical nominees, and suggests better men. We hope the Conservatives of Rowan will organize at once, and prevent the election of bad men to the Convention. Let us have sound, good, calm Conservative men. If we cannot elect such, then choose the best men among the moderate Republicans, who are pledged to oppose additional disabilities, confiscation and injuries to the white people of the State. The writer says:

"To the Editor of the Old North State:

Will you permit a Republican reader to speak to Republicans and Union men thro' your columns? I see by your paper that the Holdenites have nominated Mr. Moring and Mr. Rose as delegates to the Constitutional Convention. Now, I do not know much of the Union record of these gentlemen, but I know that at least one of them is a follower of the old secession conspirator, W. W. Holden, and is in full communion with the faction of that proscriptive rebel. If secessionists are required to take back seats by the Acts of Congress, the followers of secessionists will be treated to the same lare should the people confide in any of them. The Unionism of almost every man will be doubted who is found under the lead of an original secessionist, such as W. W. Holden. What I would suggest is that the Union men of Rowan bring forward men of respectable standing who have been throughout Union, men and who if elected, can stand up in the Convention as Union men and the friends of Union men, and of the people of the whole State. Such men I think Messrs. Holmes and Butler to be. They are liberty loving honest men, who will not bring discredit on the State in the eyes of the nation, as any follower of Holden will. You may depend upon it, every follower of Holden is a follower of a secessionist, and will be so regarded in Congress. OLD NORTH."

CONSERVATIVES, STAND FIRM!

Your object is peace and harmony. You desire to see the American Union restored, and the people of all sections in harmony with each other, striving for the future prosperity and glory of the whole nation.—Let nothing deter you from doing your whole duty to your people, your State and your country. You are among Ishmaelites, whose hands are against every man, who will not bow down to their gods and worship them. We learn that it is the purpose of the Chief Ishmaelite to assail every man connected with the Conservative movement. Well, what of that? It was what every man expected. You will be called "secessionists, traitors, liars, plotting to raise a white man's party," and perhaps a thousand other degrading epithets. What of that? Can any decent, respectable man in North Carolina expect to escape the venom and falsehood and abuse of such men? Certainly not. Who believes what such men say? Do your duty, gentlemen. Do what you believe conscience, and truth, and right require, to save your State from the rule and ruin of such men. Bear their abuse, but do your duty.

STATE NEWS.

—— A Committee has been appointed by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to address the Agent of the Associated Press at Washington City, relative to incorrect reports of the Wilmington markets, which have passed over the wires, and which have materially affected business transactions.

—— At the late session of the Superior Court for Richmond County, Julia Leak, a colored girl, was found guilty of having poisoned an infant child of Mr. W. H. Petteway, at Laurinburgh, on the 3rd of August last, and sentenced to be hanged.

—— The Evening Star is the title of a new Daily, which has made its appearance in Wilmington, under the auspices of W. H. Bernard and Thomas C. Evans, as Editors. It presents a handsome appearance and shows evidences of enterprize and industry. It eschews politics and is devoted entirely to news. Mr. Bernard is already favorably known to the public, as one of the Editors of the late Wilmington Dispatch.

—— Jno. H. Hall, a venerable citizen of Fayetteville, died in that place on Friday last. Mr. Hall was, in many respects, a remarkable man. We believe that he was upwards of eighty years of age, and, up to his last illness, managed all his business affairs with the particularity and promptness which always distinguished him. He was the principal owner of Beaver Creek Factory, which he conducted with success. For many years a leading member of the Methodist Church in Fayetteville, he set the example of a correct and upright life. A Northern man by birth, and opposed to the late war in its inception, he nevertheless sympathized warmly, after it was inaugurated, with the people and sentiments of his adopted State. He leaves a large family.

One of his sons, who has been confined in Fort Macon for some time, on the charge of complicity in the alleged conspiracy to kill Archy Belsee, and who was allowed to visit Fayetteville, under guard, to be with his father in his dying hours, only reached there the day after his death.

—— The Charlotte News mentions several new mineral developements in Mecklenburg. It says:

"In the Alexandriana settlement of this country, a valuable vein of quartz ore has been lately discovered upon the farm of our friend Alex. Holliday; we are informed that the gold bearing ore of this vein is about 1½ feet wide, and its yield, tested very imperfectly by the pen, is quite handsome.

We understand that Dr. Hays, whose farm adjoins Mr. Holliday's, fired by golden visions, has left the cotton patch and gone to digging, with flattering prospects of a similar discovery. We trust these gentlemen may realize their most sanguine expectations from this new source of wealth."

—— A correspondent, writing us from Surry County, says that that County will send a Conservative to the State Convention. In round numbers, registration foots up about 1,500 whites and about 300 blacks.

—— A gentleman, who has travelled extensively through Moore, Chatham and other Counties, represents the destruction by the Cotton worm to be really fearful.

MAINE.—The final results of the elections in this State exhibits a Democratic gain of about 17,000 votes. The Democrats have also gained nine Senators and about forty Representatives to the Legislature,—more than treble the number they had last year.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Gazette.

THE RADICALS—MR. SEWARD—THE ELECTIONS.

WASHINGTON, September 23, 1867.

It may be gratifying to some of your readers to learn that, in the opinion of the most knowing of the knowing, the Radical party has "gone up." At least Mr. Seward has said so. He has candidly confessed it in private and it has been most confidentially made public, and it must be thoroughly understood by the readers of the Gazette that, as this information is perfectly authentic, it is given them in strict confidence only to be repeated with great discretion. The only difficulty about the matter is that these same readers have so long been taught not to believe one word Mr. Seward ever utters or even to suppose for a moment that he could be sufficiently frank to express a truthful sentiment, that it can hardly now be expected that they will trust him when he says that his time is short and that he will soon be forced to vacate the office, where he has so long reigned in the insolence and pride of power and wickedness.

It is very certain that the political news from different States is very unfavorable to Mr. Seward and his backers. New York is going for the opposition. Pennsylvania will go Democratic, and even in Ohio, though the Radicals may elect a Governor, it is now confidently expected that they will be in a minority in the Legislature and thus lose the election of a Senator. The corruption, which exists everywhere in Government, State, municipal and local offices, has become so great and taxation is becoming so burdensome, that people are becoming frightened. They are being aroused to the conviction that it is necessary to protect their property before they are entirely stripped of it. In Ohio the negro question has its influence. There has been a considerable influx of blacks into that State and they no more wish the blacks to rule there than they intend that the Coolies and Chinamen shall participate in the government in California. The question of races has settled the election there. It will have its effect in other States.

THURLOW WEED SCENTS DANGER.—The New York Commercial Advertiser closes an editorial article with the following significant language:

"But the day approaches—nor is it distant—when the Republican Party will deeply deplore its infatuation; when its eyes will be opened to the dangers which threaten it; when the folly of committing it to the leadership of Sumner, Stevens, Butler, etc., etc., will be apparent; and when the attempt to demoralize suffrage by the admission of masses of persons who, as is admitted in a national appeal, are "ignorant of the means by which suffrage is expressed," will recoil, not merely to "plague the inventors," but to jeopardize, if not overthrow, our Republican ascendancy."

The Gazette says the monstrous farce of entrusting the care and safety of a large city full of white inhabitants to negro policemen, is fast playing out in Mobile. A number of the "newly appointed" have been detected in conniving at robberies, and all of them still sleep o' nights.

The Savannah papers mention the shipment of four crates of new sheaf rice from that port to New York. This is the first export North of the new rice crop.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN GOV. ORR AND GEN. SICKLES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The following is a copy of the correspondence between Gov. ORR and Gen. SICKLES:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, S. C.,
COLUMBIA, Sept. 7, 1867.

Maj. Gen. D. E. Sickles, Charleston, S. C.:

SIR—I have learned from the public press, though I have received no official notice of the fact, that you have been relieved from the command of the Second Military District, embracing this State and North Carolina, and that, by order of the President, Major General Canby has succeeded to the same.

I desire to express to you the great regret which I feel, personally and officially, at the course taken by the President and his advisers in this matter. There are many of the orders which have been issued by you since the passage of the Reconstruction bills in March last, which did not meet my approval, but it is due to you and to your official action that I should bear voluntary testimony to the wisdom and success of your administration, and to express the opinion that the almost unlimited powers with which you were invested by the acts of Congress have been exercised with moderation and forbearance. Your General Orders, No. 10, so far as this State is concerned, were, last Spring, in my opinion, absolutely necessary, looking to the impoverished condition of the country, the shortness of the provision and staple crops of last year, to the general pecuniary distress pervading the country and to the necessity of protecting the small means of farmers and planters at that time from the process of Courts. They were thereby enabled to subsist their families and grow the present crop.

This crop promises to be in many respects and in many sections of the State the most important and largest that has been grown for several years, and when harvested you could, without hazard or apprehension, have executed your purpose, as declared to me, of modifying general orders No. 10, so that creditors could have enforced their demands without producing general distress, it nothing more. It is also due to you to say that, in my judgment, if general order No. 10 had not been issued that Spring, a very considerable increase in the number of troops in this State would have been necessary, to have been stationed at many of the Court Houses, to have preserved the public records from destruction and insure the safety of Sheriffs in executing civil process in their hands, which they had been ordered to levy by thoughtless and heartless creditors. In my opinion, general orders No. 10 received the approval of a very large majority of the citizens of South Carolina, and your general administration as Commandant of the District is approved by a majority nearly as great.

In all the official intercourse which we have had, I beg to tender you my thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy with which I have been treated personally, and for the disposition you have always manifested to make the burdens of the military government as light for the people whom I represent as it were possible under the circumstances. I have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with your successor, Gen. Canby, but hope that my official relations with him may be marked with the same harmony and kind feeling which have characterized our official intercourse for nearly two years past. I have the honor to be, General, very truly and respectfully, your friend and obedient servant,

[Signed] JAMES L. ORR,
Governor of South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21st, 1867.

SIR—Your Excellency's letter of the 7th, inst. was forwarded to me at New York and received on the 13th. The cordial terms in which you are pleased to refer to our official and personal relations during my service in the Carolinas are gratefully appreciated. In my successor, Brevet Major General Canby, you will meet an officer whose ample experience and distinguished services have justly commended him to the confidence of the Government. In view of the announcement already made by General Canby, adopting and confirming the orders heretofore in force in the Second Military District, it is not probable that any material change in the conduct of affairs will result from the change in command.

In my retirement it is a source of much satisfaction to compare the present condition of South Carolina with that which I found on assuming command in the autumn of 1865. The system of free labor has been successfully inaugurated. The emancipated blacks have been invested with civil rights by the voluntary act of your Legislature. The tranquility and order which have been maintained attest the general desire of all classes of the people to observe the obligations of good citizens. An abundant harvest has rewarded industry. Grain is now exported from Charleston. Legislation has proceeded almost to completion without commotion or tumult, or any serious interruption of the ordinary avocations of the people. Since October, 1866, the courts of the United States and of the State have exercised nearly all their powers without hindrance.

The jurisdiction of the courts, although a permitted jurisdiction, has never been restricted except in particular cases imperatively demanded by the exigencies of the situation, and the civil authorities in general have been upheld and civil law has been administered with only such limitations as became necessary in the execution of the several acts of Congress. The particular measure of my administration which you are pleased to mention with special commendation—general orders No. 10—was, it is said, the occasion of my dismissal from command. You have justly described the order in question as intended to enable the people to make a good crop this year, and thereby obtain the means to support themselves and pay their debts. If my removal had been provoked by some act of oppression, spoliation or cruelty, it would have been a matter of more regret to myself. As it is, I find no reason to reproach myself for endeavoring to restore, in some degree, the material prosperity of an impoverished population, and to avert the serious disturbances that would have followed the prosecution of more than thirty thousand suits for debts pending in South Carolina when general order No. 10 was issued, in April last.

Although my official relation to the Department of the Carolinas has ceased, I cannot be indifferent to the welfare of communities whose interests were so long confided to my charge, nor is their prosperity a matter of indifference to the people of the United States or their representatives in Congress.

The population of the Carolinas have not tried to prevent the organization of legal civil governments in the rebel States, and it is only just for me to state that your own prompt and patriotic acquiescence in the requirements of the Government relieved the people you represent of many of the burdens of military government, and at the same time removed some of the most serious impediments to the execution of the reconstruction acts in South Carolina. I trust your people will not suffer any detriment by reason of complications for which they are not responsible. It only remains for them to comply with the conditions prescribed by Congress, and South Carolina will soon be restored to the Union, with all her ancient rights and dignity as a sovereign State unimpaired. These conditions have no other object than to make our institutions truly republican in substance and form, that justice may be done, and that no occasion or pretext for conflict may hereafter be found. There is not, in my judgment, any sufficient reason to apprehend that the colored people will not make good citizens. Freedom and education are rapidly developing this long dormant helpless caste. With advantages far inferior to the other races which have found their way to this country, the African has proved himself loyal, industrious and obedient to the laws. Generously fostered and justly treated, the freedmen will become the bone and sinew of Southern population and power. With the solution of this problem, and the disappearance of the asperities incident to a long war, the Carolinas will enter upon a new career of prosperity, alike attractive to the philanthropist who seeks the happiness of his fellows and gratifying to statesmen whose ambition is gratified in the progress of the Commonwealth. Remembering with pleasure the courtesy and consideration always shown to me by your Excellency in all our intercourse, official and personal, and with the liveliest interest in the happy termination of the sad years of strife which have already too long afflicted our country, I remain, truly yours.

D. E. SICKLES,
Major General.

BUYING UP CONFEDERATE BONDS.—The Tribune has the following in its Washington correspondence:

"Trustworthy news from New Orleans is received to the effect that it is learned that one of the largest brokers of that city has purchased £265,000 of eight per cent. Confederate bonds of the issue of 1861, and $300 000 of the issue of 1863, to fill an order from the North or from Europe. The prices paid are not known; but it is thought that this is a part of the sum of a million in Confederate eight per cents. advertised for in the National Intelligencer of a recent date. It might ensue that, in the settlement of the Alabama and other claims between the United States and the Government of Great Britain and France, the two latter should take the ground which ours has repeatedly assumed—viz., that the rebellious States were never out of the Union, and a corollary that the parent government is responsible for the damages which they have committed. The officers of the bank here, advertising for these bonds, state that a request was made on them by some parties in Europe for a number of the notes, which they wished merely for a curiosity."

A SENSIBLE CONCLUSION.—The Springfield Union takes a clearer view of the political situation than many of its Republican contemporaries. After looking the field over, it comes to the following conclusion:

"But account for it as we may, the ugly fact remains, that the Republican party is losing ground, and let a few more State elections, for any cause, go against it, it will operate disastrously to the reconstruction work that is now going on."

THE ELECTIONS ORDERED BY GENERAL POPE.—The elections which have been ordered by Gen. Pope, in Florida, Georgia, and Alabama, name still another day (October 29) than those fixed upon in Louisiana and Virginia, and dispose at once of the now somewhat stale canard that the President or General Grant had ordered military commanders to fix upon a uniform day.

MARYLAND.—Calls have been issued for primary meetings, to be held throughout the State, on the 5th day of October next, for the purpose of selecting delegates to County Conventions to be held on the 7th of October, preliminary to the convening of a State Convention to be held on the 9th of the same month. The candidates to be nominated in general Convention are Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of the Treasury, and Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

"Don't you know me?" said a soldier to his former commander. "No, my friend, I don't." "Why, sir, you once saved my life." "Ah! how was that?" "Why, my dear sir, I served under you at the battle of ——, and, when you ran away in the beginning of the fight, I ran after you—else I might have been killed. God bless you, my preserver, my benefactor."—Louisville Journal.

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.—General Grant's father addressed a large Democratic meeting in Cincinnati on Friday night.—National Intelligencer.

Bury me and put on my humble monument the simple inscription, "Here lies one who saved the lives of his soldiers at Fort Fisher."—Gen. Butler.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1867.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Patapsco Flour: Douglas Bell, Market Square.

Hardware and Glassware: J. Brown, with Hart & Lewis.

Agricultural and Mechanical Ware House: Mitchell, Allen & Co.

Pickled Jolies, Mountain Cheese, Southampton Hams: Jenkins & Perry.

SORRELL'S.—The Registration, on the second round, at this precinct, in this county, foots up: Whites 7, Blacks 2. This makes the total: Whites 108, Blacks 53.

THE DIRECTORS of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad were in session in this City, on yesterday.

ST. MAUR.—The most fashionable and intellectual audiences have visited this gentleman's entertainments; and, so far as we know, they have given general satisfaction. Citizens, residing ten or twelve miles from the City, have been in to attend them—which is, perhaps, the best evidence of their attractiveness.

Prof. St. Maur will visit Wilmington in a few days.

REV. THOS. E. SKINNER.—This gentleman, the Pastor of the Baptist Church in this City, has accepted a call to the Pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Nashville, Tenn., and will preach his first sermon to his new flock, on the first Sunday in October.

Mr. Skinner has made an efficient and indefatigable Pastor, and his congregation in this City will part with him with no ordinary regret.

WE NOTICE that Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., the local Agents, have received a lot of the Portable Fire Extinguishers. We hope soon to learn that the City authorities have supplied the deficient Fire Department with several of them.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—We are requested to state that there will be a meeting of the members of the Baptist Church in the basement-room, to-night. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance will be transacted.

SHERIFFS.—Thus far only twenty Sheriffs have settled with the Public Treasurer, viz: the Sheriffs of Cabarrus, Wayne, Burke, Mitchell, Pitt, Mecklenburg, Chowan, Perquimans, Iredell, Forsyth, Davidson, Alamance, Catawba, Richmond, New Hanover, Craven, Anson, Cumberland, Guilford and Nash. There are but five days left, in which settlements can be made, without subjecting Sheriffs to heavy penalties for delinquency. Probably, however, within that time, the most of them will come in.

THE GOLDSBORO Morning Star, alluding to the new Railroad House, opened by Mr. Blair in this City, says:

"We took breakfast there yesterday, and we can say a better table, and more polite servants, cannot be found in the South.—This Railroad eating house is destined to become a fixed institution."

THE CROPS.—We learn from the Sheriff of Richmond, that the worm has made its appearance in that County, but that the cotton crop, nevertheless, will be a good one.

In Anson, also, the worm has appeared.—Independently of this, the crop is an indifferent one.

In Nash, crops are improving, and there has been no visitation of the worm.

INDIAN FASHIONS.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, in a sketch of the recent council at Fort Sully, says: "The Indians were attired in their Sunday clothes—plenty of paint and feathers. They were a droll crowd, all past the prime of life, all painted, some yellow, some black, some red. All sorts of clothes were worn; even one fellow appeared in a cast-off Brigadier General's coat; army cavalry hats were quite in vogue, and their hair was tied up in two braids, which were inserted in fox skins about eighteen inches, and hung down over their hearts. Dirty shirts were decidedly fashionable, it being Indian etiquette to put on a shirt and wear it out, and on no condition to remove it till it wears out, or to have it washed. As to pantaloons they wear nothing but the legs, cutting out the seats as soon as they are given to them."

LAST Wednesday evening, whilst worship was going on in the colored Church at Memphis, the congregation were suddenly disturbed by a number of bullets crashing through the windows. Great consternation prevailed for a while, but nobody was struck. The volley was fired by a gang of negro rowdies, who made their escape.

DR. SEARS on Thursday left Providence, Rhode Island, to take up his residence at Staunton, Va. He was accompanied to the boat by the faculty and students of Brown's University.

To the Conservative Constitutional Union Men of Wake County.

The undersigned, citizens of Wake County, friends of the American Union and supporters of the Constitution of the United States, being convinced that the incorporation of the Brownlow-Holden-Radical programme into the Constitution of the State would most surely embarrass, if not annihilate, all enterprise and all hope of recuperation, and would discourage all immigration, the investment of capital and diminish or destroy the sources of employment to our laboring population, do most earnestly implore all Conservative citizens of every County in the State, to hold meetings for the adoption of such plans as they may deem wisest and best, for uniting and consolidating the Conservative influence in the State, to effectively prevent the success of ultra Republican or Radical rule in our State organization.

The Congress of the United States has cut us off from all participation at present in National politics. Nothing is left us but the care of our State institutions, and this movement has nothing to do with National politics or with hindering or attempting to obstruct the operation of any law of Congress. It has simple reference only to the preventing of the incorporation of those Radical principles and measures into our State organization, which would place the control and government of the State in the hands of the ignorant, the vicious and the most unprincipled among us, which would certainly result in the destruction of the enterprise and vitality of the State. All the aid or encouragement, therefore, which this movement could give to the friends of Constitutional liberty and free government, elsewhere, would be simply incidental.

We, therefore, urge all Conservative Constitutional Union men of the County of Wake, holding these views, to unite with us in holding a meeting at the Court House in this city, on Friday evening, the 27th. of the present month, at half past 7 o'clock, to effect the above named object, and we urge our fellow citizens of the several registration precincts in the County to unite with us, or hold meetings in their several precincts.

POSTPONEMENT OF ELECTIONS.—The President and Gen. Grant had a consultation on this subject a few days ago. They agreed that under the reconstruction acts neither the Executive nor the General-in-Chief has any control or authority over elections or registration in the military districts; but it is understood they have agreed on the propriety of holding elections on the same day, and that it would be advisable to suggest the same to the generals commanding, not in the shape of an order, however, but as an advisory communication, which Gen. Grant was expected to send. It is not known that Gen. Grant has communicated with them upon this subject.

Information received from private sources here yesterday leads to the belief that Gen. Mower will postpone the election in Louisiana until the first Monday of November next, on account of the yellow fever, and the consequent absence of many voters. In official circles it is not believed that Gen. Mower will take action in that direction except upon consultation with Gen. Hancock, who is understood to acquiesce in the suggestion that all elections be held on the same day.

Information from Louisiana indicates that the Radicals, or a large portion of them, desire postponement of the election, on the ground that the colored voters have not had sufficient training.—Nat. Intel.

COL. BONDURANT.—Many of the survivors of the army of Northern Virginia will see with regret, the announcement of the death of this gallant gentleman, who died of yellow fever in New Orleans. Col. Bondurant commanded a battery, which, during the second year of the war, was attached to D. H. Hill's division. He was with Jackson at Cold Harbor, where he displayed signal courage and skill in the management of his guns, and was much commended for the coolness displayed in bringing off disabled pieces under a murderous fire. When Gen. D. H. Hill was ordered to the west, Col. Bondurant accompanied him as chief of Artillery, on his staff. Throughout the entire war his services were distinguished, where distinction was hard to win, in a corps which numbered such heroes as Pegram, Pelham, Manly and Latimer. A long rest to his stern spirit!—Char. News.

A dispatch states that at a Radical meeting at Alliance, Ohio, on Thursday, "one four horse team had a very large horse and a very small jackass for leaders—the horse labelled 'For Congress,' and the jackass 'My Policy.' This caused considerable merriment." The jackass is acknowledged to be superior to the horse in strength and endurance, as has been demonstrated in our late war. Perhaps the Radicals will find that the jackass will prove, in the end, the best and strongest team. It pulled down the Radical majorities in New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, and California so low that the horse-team will never be able to pull them up again.—Nat. Intel.

Last Wednesday evening, whilst worship was going on in the colored Church at Memphis, the congregation were suddenly disturbed by a number of bullets crashing through the windows. Great consternation prevailed for a while, but nobody was struck. The volley was fired by a gang of negro rowdies, who made their escape.

DRY GOODS.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!!

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS FOR 1867.

Old Prices Reached the City and Stopped at

A. CREECH'S,

R. SMITH'S CORNER,

Fayetteville Street.

I AM NOW RECEIVING MY FALL AND WINter Stock of

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I can say, with safety, that I have one among the largest and most complete stocks that has ever been brought to this City, either before or since the war,—embracing almost any and everything suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear.

CALICOES, 10, 12½, 15, and 18 cents per yard.

FRENCH MERINOS, 75 cts. to $1,25 per yard.

DELAINES, POPLINS, and a great variety of other Dress Goods, embracing all the new novelties of the season, and will be sold cheap enough to insure sales.

BROWN DOMESTICS, 12½, 15 and 20 cts. per yard.

BLEACHED DOMESTICS, 12½, 15, 20 and 25 cts. per yard, and all other goods in proportion.

Also, the largest and most varied stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATINETS,
TWEEDS, AND KENTUCKY JEANS

I ever offered to the trade in this City, both as to price and quality.

Also a very fine assortment of White and Colored FLANNELS,

LADIES' CLOAKS,
BREAKFAST SHAWLS,
SQUARE AND LONG SHAWLS,

which will be sold at prices to suit my customers.

Ladies', Misses' and Children's TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS,—new styles, from 50 cents to $4,00 each.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Sons' make and others of equally high standing.

Ladies' Pegged Balmorals from $1 to $2.

Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1,50 to $3,50.

CREECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4,00. Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "luck again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in Store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

A. CREECH'S,

Sept. 12—32-tf Fayetteville Street.

Coming!

COMING!!

COMING!!!

Fall is Coming!

WINTER IS COMING

AND SO ARE

FALL AND

WINTER GOODS!!

Of every Description!

And, what is better than all,

PRICES ARE COMING DOWN!!

We hereby certify that the Rosadalis is prepared by a Physician, who is an experienced Pharmaceutist and Chemist, and that his remedy is an efficient and reliable one in SCROFULA, Syphilis, &c., it having performed some remarkable cures in this vicinity.

We hereby certify that we regard Dr. Lawrence's Compound Extract of Rosadalis as a Reliable Alterative, &c.

Wilson, N. C., May 10, 1867.

Edgecombe County, N. C., May 24, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir—Please send me immediately per Express to Tarboro, two dozen more bottles of your Rosadalis. I have carefully examed its Formula, and have used it in my practice in a number of cases. I am well pleased with it. I think it, beyond doubt, the best Alterative I ever used. I have tried it in several cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, &c., with much satisfaction to myself and patients. I have also used it in Secondary and Tertiary Syphilis, [one a terrible case of eight years' standing,] in which it acted with surprising and satisfactory effect—making a quick and thorough cure. I have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending it to Physicians and others, as the most reliable Alterative now known.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

A. B. NOBLES, M. D.

A Wonderful Cure of Scrofulous White Swelling.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify, that last September I was attacked with White Swelling of the left knee—and also with an enlargement of the glands of the neck—[one tumor reached a large size.] The swelling of the knee was enormous, and was attended with the most excruciating pains. I was so reduced that I was confined to my room over three months. My leg was so completely drawn up, that I could not bend it at all. I tried various remedies, and they failed to give me any relief. I was in this condition when I commenced taking Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis. The swelling in the knee and neck began to subside before I took all of the first bottle. By the time I took the second bottle the swelling of the neck entirely disappeared and that of the knee nearly so. After taking three bottles I found myself completely well—able to walk as well as ever, &c.

LATIMER WILLIAMS.

Wilson, May 12, 1867.

Rosadalis will cure the very worst cases of Chronic Rheumatism.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

Wilson, N. C., May 6th, 1867.

I hereby certify that I was cured of long standing Chronic Rheumatism, by taking four bottles of Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis.

JAMES WILLIS.

Rosadalis cures Carbuncles, Boils, Pimples, &c.

Certificate from an old and much respected citizen of Greene County, now a resident of Wilson, N. C.

I hereby certify that, during the summer and fall of 1866, that I was severely afflicted with Carbuncles—having had as many as fourteen large Carbuncles, and twelve ordinary Boils. I suffered so much from them that I could not get out of the house half the time for several months. Being induced to try Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, I was entirely cured by the use of one bottle of that truly valuable medicine.

THE FADED BLUE BELL.

BY A. O. GANTARD.

This pretty little blue bell
Has never felt the frost
And yet its beauty's faded,
And all its fragrance lost.
'Twas plucked by maiden fingers
But yesterday for me,
And then 'twas bright and blooming,
And sweet as it could be.
But now, alas! 'tis faded,
Its beauty passed away;
Just as may fade to-morrow
The hopes that bloom to day.

I often sit and wonder
If fairy folks there be,
Or nymphs to haunt the brooklets
That warble o'er the lea;
And think perhaps each flow'ret
Is watched by fairy eyes,
And when the flower is faded
The guardian fairy dies.
If this be true, then surely,
If they're a loving band,
There must have been lamenting
Last night in fairy land;
They must have tolled the blue-bells
With low and mournful sound,
As passed a slow procession
To fairy burying-ground.
Methinks I see them standing
Beside the narrow bed,
A flake of frozen moonlight
Erected at its head,
Whereon is dimly written
The sweet name of the fay,
With "Guardian of the blue-bell,
That faded yesterday."

I wonder where the dew is
This blossom used to hold;
Perhaps to-night 'tis falling
Amid the rain drops cold,
Or leaping from some fountain,
Beneath a moaning tree,
Or rushing down the river
Toward the restless sea.
I wonder where the sweet is
It yielded to the breeze,
Perhaps 'tis in the night wind
That moans among the trees;
And in the end, I wonder
Where all the blue will go,
Up to the sky above us,
Or to the waves below;
Or will the hand of Nature
Collect the colors clear,
And carefully preserve them,
To tint some more next year?

ANECDOTES OF IRVING.

The genial, though unobtrusive, modesty of Washington Irving is known to all readers of his works, this characteristic being one of the many charms of his writings; but it is not, perhaps, so well known that this trait, so generally admired by others, was to himself, at times, a source of infinite annoyance and mortification.

The subjoined anecdotes, never before published, we believe, (one of which is quite timely,) are illustrative of his modesty, or rather his diffidence, as exhibited on two memorable occasions when confidence and self possession appeared to him peculiarly necessary. On the occasion of the first of Charles Dickens to this country, a grand dinner, as will doubtless be recollected by old New Yorkers, was given to him at the City Hotel, at which a large number of literary and other celebrities assembled to do honor to the distinguished foreigner. After the guest himself the most important person present was Washington Irving, who had been selected to preside, and from whom a felicitous and interesting welcoming address was expected. To the utter surprise of everybody, however, when he arose to speak he was scarcely able to express a coherent word, and, after two or three attempts, sat down, amid the laughter of the party, completely discomfited.—His failure afforded Dickens an excellent opportunity to show his humor and amiability at the same time, which he did not omit to do when he got up to respond.—The next morning Irving wrote to Parke Benjamin as follows:

"Dear Parke,—I broke down last night, just as I knew I should. IRVING."

Some time after this, the democratic party of this city, feeling the need of a strong candidate to enable them to carry a pending mayoralty election, chose the author of the "Sketch Book," and a committee, composed of some of the leading politicians of the day, was dispatched to Sunnyside to apprise him of his nomination and obtain, if possible, his acceptance. Arriving at his residence, they were met at the door by the housekeeper, who, after eyeing them suspiciously and asking divers questions, ushered them into the library, where they found the illustrious author reclining on a lounge. After the usual civilities, the spokesman of the party made known the object of their visit in the most unexceptionable set phrases. Whereupon Mr. Irving commenced to reply, and had got as far as "I thank you, gentlemen, for the complimentary manner in which you have conveyed to me this honor, but—" and pausing for an instant, he was relieved by the housekeeper, who, at the moment entered the room to announce refreshments, and said, evidently having overheard the conversation: "But you shan't go, sir;" when Mr. Irving again resumed, and concluded in these words: "Gentlemen, you have your answer," and then politely led the way to the dining room.—Home Journal.

COTTON GIN HORSE POWERS.

WE BEG LEAVE TO INVITE THE ATTENTION OF COTTON PLANTERS TO OUR

IMPROVED EIGHT-FEET STATIONARY POWER

FOR

DRIVING COTTON GINS.

It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.

The following letter from Col. Hoon, of Surry County, speaks for itself:

* * * * * It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin-Horse Power bought last season proved an entire success.

I applied a 13 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which improved on constant work, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 4,000 per day.

The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 2 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the State who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old powers and order this pattern of you.

Yours, most respectfully,
WM. H. HOOD.

To its OWN SEAPORTS and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $200,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling, and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

GREAT THROUGH LINE

Route to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

Cars run through to all points without breaking bulk.

THE SEABOARD INLAND AIR LINE

Via Portsmouth, Va.,

IS THE ONLY DIRECT LINE BETWEEN Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and the Carolinas.

It is express in point of speed and safety of Freights, being from

FORTY TO SEVENTY HOURS

in advance of all other lines, and at as low rates. It offers daily communication with Baltimore, daily communication with Philadelphia.

Five Steamers each week to and from New York.

Two Steamers each week to and from Boston.

It is the only line having these advantages, and by which there is but one handling of freight.

Cars are loaded at the wharves in Portsmouth and are run through to destination.

Be careful to direct your Consignors to ship only

From Baltimore, by the Norfolk or Bay Line Steamers, foot of Union Dock.

Fees for all the Lectures, $140; Matriculation, (paid but once) $5; Practical Anatomy, $10. Payment required in advance.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, inquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press work at Mr P. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement, and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.

W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.

THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw. I would pay the price of a Press, rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.

D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.

J. H. CURRY,
Sup't W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half, at first, and lasting twice as long as a Screw.

PETER E. SMITH.

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit.

RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baskets.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

I think I can sell County rights at about $10 by the hundred.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make returns of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of a such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the whole number of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall, by and with the consent of the Senate and House of Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

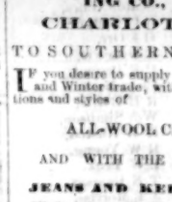
THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine



IS OFFERED TO THE

Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and these few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench.

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause.

You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory, or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.
